COMING UP!

2020 E. B. Storrs Scholars Roundtable: "Young Musicians during a Pandemic"

Part 2, April 22, 2021, 10-11 AM on Zoom

On this program, we will get to hear from a number of 2020 Storrs Scholarship recipients, all of whom were enrolled in Connecticut university programs at the time they applied. In normal times, we would have heard some of these pianists in a live recital this past March. Instead, we will at least get to chat with them, find out more about their current situation and career plans, and hear samples of their pianism. The scholars will be joining us from their homes around the world, where they are living and working during the pandemic.

Scholarship recipients planning to participate in today's roundtable include: Salome Jordania, Morgan Lee, Anthony Ratinov, Christine Wu, and Sofia DiNatale. A different cadre of pianists appeared on March 18; we will hear from the remainder today. If you would like to familiarize yourself with these brilliant young musicians prior to April 22, we recommend following online video links which can be found on the club's website musicalclubhartford.org. On the website, look on the Upcoming Events page for the April 22 program.

Watch for an email in a few days with a link to pre-register. Definitely register early if you think you might attend. You can cancel if your plans change.

Hartt 100: The Future - Hartt Community School

April 1, 2021 on Zoom

In this third and final program in the Hartt at 100 series, Noah Blocker-Glynn and Michelle Fiertek explained the planned expansion of the mission, vision, and scale that will evolve the "Hartt Community Division" ("HCD") of the present into the "Hartt Community School - One School, Two Branches" of the future.

One branch will be the traditional "School for Performing Arts" of pre-college conservatory-level training in music and dance that the Community Division mostly represents now. The other will be a much expanded "Community Arts and Family Wellness branch" whose goals will be to bring the experience, joy, and benefits of music and dance into everyday family life for all in the Hartford community.

About 40 audience members also saw recordings of Pandemic-Year Community Division students – a boisterous virtual singing class, a tiny virtual piano recital participant, and an impressive virtual chamber (duet) production.
